

THE GOLDEN EARTH

The Dawn of a New Beginning

BY ANNI SENNOV

FOR MILLIONS OF YEARS PLANET EARTH HAS BEEN the epicentre of the integration of all energies and knowledge coming from the other planets in our solar system, which is why it has been a challenge for most people to live here.

Planet Earth is a place where every one of us has come from different parts of the Cosmos to experience, learn and play with the countless possibilities that are found here. Some have also come here to challenge themselves, because Planet Earth is the only place in the Cosmos that consists of both material and spiritual energies. So here you can explore all variations of energy, even though some spiritual people believe that Earth is a low-frequency place consisting of non-spiritual beings, living side by side with nature and a countless number of innocent animals.

Planet Earth has always welcomed everyone to expand their consciousness in its material-spiritual energy sphere. The only challenge being that as an Earth inhabitant you cannot choose your own neighbours in daily life, because you have to fit into the big integration plan taking place here.

With the dawning of the Golden Age, which began with the end of the Mayan Calendar on the 21st December 2012, things have fortunately started to change.

The Golden Energy, which is pure creative materialisation power, has been hidden deep inside the Earth for millions of years, waiting for us humans to be ready to use it in a constructive and positive way, and has now started to play the major role it was always predicted to play for the benefit of Earth and mankind. Earth is no longer a silent player in the big integration plan, where everything has been planned so that those who came here as visitors, could learn about life and spiritual-material creation in a way they could relate to from back home. Therefore, Earth had to integrate all good and bad energies that the foreign visitors brought with them, as if they were the Earth's own energies.

Not all foreign energies that came from different places in the greater Cosmos and from planets in our solar system were compatible with the Earth's pure spiritual-material energy structure. So suddenly, Planet Earth had to deal with these guests, who had been invited to the big integration party, but who behaved in a very different way than the people and animals did on Earth.

The concept of balance was interpreted in many different ways, and personal material greed became the result in many cultures, unfortunately. Furthermore, it turned out that most beings coming from other planets didn't like the energies here and they didn't understand the essence of living in balance with the Earth. After all, what else could you do here apart from materialising and growing bigger in all areas? Now when Planet Earth has its voice back, in the way it had before the big integration plan was activated, there will be peace on Earth again, but maybe not in the way most people expect it to happen.

Earth has always been Heaven for those who think and create positively, and it has been Hell for those who are ruled by conflict, fear and negative energies, or who surround themselves with negative creations or negative people. But it hasn't always been fair to those who have lots of resistance in life even though they are kind and loving people, so what on Earth has been going on???

We all know that this would never be the case if the Earth had been in charge of all things taking place here right from the beginning. Because if nature can grow with no influence from mankind and the animals can walk around freely, then paradise usually exists, until someone with a very material non-spiritual mind-set shows up and builds a hotel to be able to earn lots of money. With this said there is nothing wrong in earning lots of money. It's the way that people use their money that gives a clear indication of how spiritual and humane they are, and how much in tune they are with Planet Earth and its essential energies.

Karma, and the reincarnation system on a soul level, have been the main reasons for the life conditions on Earth, because they have been very important bricks in the spiritual development of mankind on Planet Earth since the very beginning. Once you became part of the soul reincarnation system there was no way out, until you reached the end, after going through all sorts of challenges throughout your countless lives.

Today things are fortunately totally different for the new generations, who are all born with upgraded energies compared to previous generations, just like computers and mobile phones etc. In the electronic world all devices are usually updated from month to month, or even faster, and the same visible evolution takes place in all modern people, if they have the interest and the potential. In fact, all information that is coded into modern computers and other electronic devices came from high-frequency people, who have a deep interest in modern evolution, and there is a huge creative potential in society in places where you wouldn't expect to find it. It's almost like when a 9-year-old child enters the stage in a song contest and sings like a tenor from the past century.

Today, all children are born on a spiritual level and with pure Crystal energy in their auras, and most important of all, they have no predetermined destiny and karma and no specific way to go in life. They can choose whatever route they want as long as they fulfil their spiritual-material dharma and life purpose, which is usually focused on creating balance and expanding consciousness in their immediate surroundings and elsewhere.

Many of today's children are born to influence their parents and other adults to believe in a higher power and to start believing in themselves. Most adults need to understand that it's never too late to start living and to try to make things better. In fact many young people have voluntarily chosen to have more purposes in life, because they love to expand their spiritual and human consciousness and explore life in the spiritual-material creative energy sphere here on Earth.

Not many of today's adults can follow the New Time children and young people unless they try to expand their own consciousness to the limit or beyond. The reason being, that today's children are born to contribute to the development of society and to the overall spiritual development. They are not here to learn basic things in the same way as their parents and previous generations.

As an adult, your level of spiritual consciousness and your love capacity is going to be challenged in the Golden Age, which has now started. It will not be enough for you to go to the gym on a regular basis and to have a healthy lifestyle. You have to expand your spiritual consciousness and your ability to embrace others and you have to help and support your surroundings at all levels. Because in the Golden Age good and bad, rich and poor, healthy and sick people etc. are going to live side by side to be able to expand each other's consciousness in an optimal way.

The Golden energy of the Earth will not allow thousands of years to pass before a good and balanced solution is found for today's problems, and it will not allow history to repeat itself. Therefore, most of today's adults will have challenges in life that stress them and press them to make new decisions in life in accordance with their true inner spirit. The reason being, that we now live in a time where the body and the spirit are about to merge, so we will all start to radiate our true inner personality in the form of love and wisdom, but we will also radiate the opposite if we possess negative and dominant energies. Evil will be more visible than ever before, not because we are going through evil times, but because the essence and the intentions of all people will be visible to everybody in the Golden Age. This means that people will no longer be able to lie to themselves and each other. The truth will always find its way to the surface, so that the inner and outer personalities become one and the same.

Planet Earth is a place of opportunities but the Golden spiritual-material energy will not be available to those who are greedy and don't want to help others. Balance between focusing on the individual and on the society will be rewarded, so that egoism and greed will find their way out of the earthly consciousness for good. Therefore, it is a necessity for the Golden energy to be able to know and see clearly who are the good guys and who are the bad guys. Earthly visibility will help a new long-lasting earthly balance to emerge, where only the good ones will be supported by the Earth's Golden creative power and life force. This will hopefully motivate all others to start behaving as good people.

The Golden energy will not express itself through one single person or as a visible physical energy that one can hold in one's hands. It will act through the Earth itself by activating natural disasters and affecting the weather; and soon many people and animals will be affected and so will their thoughts, visions, feelings, relationships, economy, etc. So if people should think they can conquer the Earth, they will soon become wiser. Planet Earth is much more intelligent at all levels than we can ever imagine, and we will get to know and understand this in the Golden Age, which has just started.
